The Intelligencer.

Another Letter from "Investigator" is Regard to Spiritual Manifestations.

Editor of the Intelligencer:

It was not my intention or desire to enter into a discussion of Spiritualism, but hoped by stating facts only, that I might be induced to pursue the investigation further, and not stop short of, with only two sittings with a "Wheeling medium." As to the medium, for him I will not say a word, but for the matter, I decline, from the fact that I am and always have been very skeptical in reference to any manifestations through mediums, or manifestations through seances for pay. But as I have an opportunity I will be most happy to give him a chance of investigation, the matter as I have said, which has been very satisfactory to me. But I have no objection to his going and consulting the spirits, or visiting those who have a familiar spirit. But that he will be convinced, by anything produced through a test medium, I have no idea, for I think he would have to feel the "prints of the nails with his fingers," as Thomas did. But I must have charity. I did not believe even if I had been taken across a sixteen foot room and back upon a heavy table without anybody in contact with the table but myself. Now how does "Materialism" account for this? By any "law" I say. I say the same table and others, at various times, rise up from the floor with a person on it, sufficiently high to slide the person off, and rise too on that side upon which the little girl medium had the tips of her fingers! How is this accounted for? It was said to be spirits that did it. I did not believe it. I have seen and felt tables rise up on two feet until the edge of the table would touch the floor and rise up again to its proper position without any visible agency, contrary to all known laws of gravity. I have repeatedly seen a table rise up with a grown person upon it and then, without any visible effort, fall to a minute at a time, with only one hand touching the table. This was done contrary to any law I know of, and was said to be done by spirits. But why enumerate? Let it suffice to say that I can bring living witnesses to testify to the truth of what I state, but I have little to say in any evidence in this regard, any weight with "materialists" who say that and so is the will of the Almighty. Has God or his law changed? Did not angels or spirits visit the earth in olden times? If spirits could roll away a large stone could they not move or tip a table? If they could open prison doors could they not lift and stand close to the floor and hold it there? Now for the "Materialist" or anybody else I shall as briefly as possible state the manner in which I have investigated this, to me, very important matter. It is by one or more honest seekers after truth, sitting in quietude and prayerfully asking for light and knowledge, and if so be, we are sitting around a table or stand, lay our hands upon the same, and some one of us mentally for any spirit that wishes to communicate to signify by rapping on, or by a vibration of the stand or table. If there is any response, (which we very seldom fail to receive) the question is then asked. Will this spirit tell us its name if the alphabet is called? If so rap. Then when the first letter of the name is called rap or tip or vibrate the table. And thus it is, that we have had what purported to be messages from spirits, enough to fill a volume. Now where is the chance, or what would be the design of any fraud where a man and his wife and three or four little children, sitting and holding sweet converse with angels and spirits of their departed household? We have never yet received what purported to be a spirit message, that did not tend to elevate. Now some power does all this? It purports to be spirits, why not accept it? What is the attempt to explain how this is done. All I have received in this way has been elevating. And I thank the Lord for this the greatest boon ever vouchsafed to mankind. For any person who believes the Bible to doubt spirit manifestations, is the strangest thing to me in existence. But it is largely worth while to begin in this circle of Spiritualism in support of Spiritual manifestations, as the Bible is full of it from beginning to end. "Materialist" says the "advocate of spiritualism assail one of the primary truths of the physical world." We do no such thing. We say these things (table rappings, etc.) do occur. We know it, for we have seen it and felt it. We do not attempt to explain how, or by what law it is done. I am sorry to encroach upon your space to such an extent, but I do not wish "Materialist" (who I take to be an honorable man), or any one else, to be under a wrong impression. What is evidence of a future state, or the immortality of the soul, to me, might not be evidence to another. I am happy to know, through spirit manifestations, that my soul is immortal. Spirit manifestations teach, and prove, that the better lives we live here, the better prepared we will be to enjoy the society of the good after we die. Neither of these things convince a materialist that they are surrounded by angels or spirits, who are cognizant of their every act, then they will try to live better lives and mend their ways.
